

14 Great Vendors This Year to Celebrate our 30th Anniversary

Red Barn with a wide variety of vegetables [All of the usual and also some unusual, such as purple cauliflower. They will have some fabulous corn soon.]

K & K Farm with wonderful fruit from Michigan, cherries now, peaches, apples and more later.

Irvin Geils who has vegetables, corn as the season progresses and a variety of produce.

Meidema Bros. with cut flowers, gladiola in all sorts of colors, sunflowers, lilies and more

Klug Orchard has fruit from Michigan, strawberries, cherries, then peaches, pears, apples and more.

Dennis Geils will be here in a few weeks with some organic tomatoes and other vegetables.

The French nuns are back with their amazing French pastries [So incredible!]

Stivers Coffee is here with the coffee they roast in Chicago. [It is wonderful stuff.]

River Valley Kitchen has just picked mushrooms and products in jars made with their mushrooms. And I do not want to leave out their five cheese and garlic spread. [So good.]

White Star has sauces, scones, fresh squeezed lemonade and a terrific portabello consomme.

The Cheese People are with us and have a lovely variety of not-your-run-of-the-mill cheese.

Fulton Bakery is new to us this year. They have artisanal breads and muffins.

Diamond Seafood is new this year also. They have fresh (never frozen) fish and other seafood. [Really good fish.]

Leider has the most beautiful pots of flowers and plants and planters with several varieties. [A great addition to our market.]
